Cookie Policy

About cookies
About cookies Cookies are information packets sent by web servers to web browsers, and stored by the web browsers. The information is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. This enables a web server to identify and track web browsers.

Cookies on our website

Name of Cookie	Party	Purpose of Cookie
	Plessey	This cookie file is used to ensure access once the visitor has accepted our use of cookies.
	Plessey	This cookie file is placed by our website to enable us to recognise registered users and supply additional support and services in reference to technology capabilities.

Get Clicky is used for collecting anonymous website usage statistics. The information that is collected includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, type of browser, Internet Service Provider (ISP), date/time stamp, referring/entry/visited/exit pages, to analyse trends, administer the site, and track user's movement around the site. IP addresses and other such information are not linked to any information that is personally identifiable.

In addition, we use Google Analytics to analyse the use of this website. Google Analytics generates statistical and other information about website use by means of cookies, which are stored on users' computers. The information generated relating to our website is used to create reports about the use of the website. Google will store this information. Google's privacy policy is available at: http://www.google.com/privacypolicy.html.

Refusing cookies
- Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies.

- In Internet Explorer, you can refuse all cookies by clicking "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and selecting "Block all cookies" using the sliding selector.

- In Firefox, you can adjust your cookies settings by clicking "Tools", "Options" and "Privacy".

- Blocking cookies will have a negative impact upon the usability of this websites.

The technology of light